Rultchaski Fired Three Shots in a West Broadway Restaurant.

PROPRIETOR IS DYING.

One Bullet Passed Clean Through Samuel Gordon's Neck—Lunatic Arrested.

Three pistol shots, fired in rapid succession, attracted the attention of Detective Sergeant McNaught as he was passing a restaurant kept by Samuel Gordon, at No. 121 West Broadway, early to-day.

In company with Policeman Higgins, he entered the place and saw a dark, wild-looking man standing beside a table with a revolver in his hand.

His eyes were bloodshot and his cheeks ashen with excitement. Across the room lay Gordon, the proprietor of the place, with two wounds in his neck, where a bullet had passed from the left to the right side.

The man with the revolver, who gave his name as Leon Rultchaski and said he was a Russian glove-maker, thirty-one years old, was taken to the Leonard street station.

There he gave unmistakable evidences of insanity. He said he lived at No. 278 West Broadway and that he worked at No. 123 Chambers street at his trade.

On his way to work he stopped in Gordon's to get breakfast. He ordered tea and it made him crazy.

"I took too much tea," said he, wildly, "and it made me crazy. It always does. It made me shoot."

Gordon was taken to the Hudson Street Relief Hospital, where it was said that his wounds were serious and might prove fatal.

Rultchaski is described as a quiet man who kept much to himself at his boarding-house.

B. Rabenowitz, the employer of the prisoner, said that the man had been acting queerly for a week.

"He believed some one was trying to poison him," said Rabenowitz. "He told us yesterday that poison was being put in his tea and that there was going to be a 'bloody affair' soon."

BRIDEGROOM OF 80 FICKLE.

Wife of Seventy-two Charges Justice Casely with Desertion.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 30.—Justice of the Peace Ira Carle, of Kingston, who took to himself a bride when he was eighty, is now charged with desertion and will be tried next week.

He wooed and won his wife, who is seventy-two years old, within a few days, and when the time for the wedding came he decided that, as a Justice of the Peace, he had a legal right to perform the ceremony himself.

He accordingly got a Bible and made his bride place her hand on one end of it, while he held the other. Then he repeated the marriage ceremony and announced that they were married.

He and his wife lived together for a time, but he soon left her, and it was not until then that she discovered the marriage was illegal. She had him arrested and a legal ceremony was performed. Now she charges him with desertion.

BRIDE'S FATHER SHOT IN FIGHT.

YOUNG HUSBAND USED PISTOL IN HOLDING GOODS.

Quarrel Over Household Effects Ended in Fatal Shooting.

(Special to The Evening World.) DUNKIRK, N. Y., Sept. 30.—A. D. Longhouse, a prominent coal dealer in this city, is dying in the Hospital here as the result of a bullet wound. Reuben L. Young, a young man and a son-in-law of the injured man, fired the shot.

Young and his wife, who have been married three months, have not been living together, owing to marital troubles. This morning the father-in-law, accompanied by his wife and son, went to the home of the young husband in Fredonia, near this city, to remove certain household furniture claimed as the property of the bride.

Young objected to their removing a table which he said was his own. When they refused to listen to him he pulled out a revolver and fired four times. The father-in-law was struck in the right breast.

After the shooting the young husband walked to the City Hall and gave himself up.

Mrs. Mullins is only twenty-three years old. She was married at fourteen.

HILDA SPONG GIVES A BEAUTY TALK. THE ART OF FACIAL EXPRESSION.

Don't Be Doleful.

Don't Smile Smilingly Like This.

HILDA SPONG, the leading lady of the Daly Theatre Company, who is a remarkable beauty, gives this advice to women about what to do and what not to do with the muscles of the face in expressing emotion.

Don't overwork your features. The most expressive face is by no means the one constantly in muscular action.

Animation does not necessitate the twisting of the features into different expressions.

Given good health (perhaps I should read in also a good temper), a pretty woman has no cause to dread the inevitable transition from youth to age, which should be merely a mellowing of her charms.

Make your features do your bidding. You owe this to yourself. Study your face in the glass when engaged in conversation, and when you catch yourself in a grimace (which you had mistakenly imagined was your sweetest smile), you will modify your expression thereafter.

Cultivate repose if you would avoid expressions.

Really! This Sort of Shocked Surprise Is Too Common.

Don't Be Too Surprised.

When you laugh at all, laugh as if you meant it. Don't compromise on a smile or a "set" smile that means nothing in particular, like the painted smile of a wax doll.

Be cheerful—just as cheerful as possible.

Do not permit your face to settle into a painfully serious expression. Severity is not desirable in a woman's face. The ideal woman, it seems to me, is one in whose face are perfectly blended two expressions that are the keystones to a well-poised, truly womanly character—the combined expressions of strength and sweetness.

NABBED AS HE LANDED.

Francisco Biraghi Taken in by Secret-Service Men at Steamship Pier.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Conceals His Real Name and Says He Has Long Been Out of Work.

Francisco Biraghi was arrested yesterday by Agent Flynn, in charge of the Secret Service, aided by Burke, one of his assistants, at the Ward line pier, No. 17 East River. Biraghi came here from Havana under the name of "B. Frank."

Biraghi, it is alleged, is the man who made the dies for the Paris gang of counterfeiters which was run down by Chief Hazen when he was in charge of the Secret Service Bureau in January last.

The gang had two headquarters, one in Watt street and the other in Mangin street, and there were eight prisoners arrested at the time the raid was made in January, including one woman. Six of the gang, children of the counterfeiter, were convicted, and are now serving terms of imprisonment.

Biraghi, who is a diamond setter, an expert engraver and die sinker, left the city just before the raid was made, going to Havana, Cuba. It is alleged that he was the engraver of the dies from which the counterfeit coin was struck off. These dies were for quarters, half dollars and standard silver dollars, but when the raid was made the gang had only circulated the counterfeit counter dollars, as the dies for the half dollars and the standard silver dollars had not been perfected.

Biraghi is an Italian about forty-two years of age and lives with his family in Hoboken, where one of the members of the gang, children of the counterfeiter, was arrested at the time the raid was made. He was in the employ of a jeweler of the name of Probenzano, East Fourth street, as a diamond setter and an engraver.

He arrived in this city on Saturday last on the steamship Esperanza, of the Ward line. As he was a non-immune he was detained at Quarantine, and was brought up to this city yesterday on the Health Board tugboat. He was taken to the East River pier, and immediately placed under arrest by the Secret Service men.

Biraghi pleaded not guilty when arraigned before United States Commissioner Shields, and in default of $5,000 bail was committed to Ludlow Street Jail. He is an Italian, of an intelligent-looking man, with closely cropped gray hair, a heavy mustache, and was when arrested before the Commissioner a brown overcoat, black Prince Albert coat and alpaca trousers.
